FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Titan, Frontier & Xterra Owners, Your Locker is Here! Introducing the RD149

Seattle, October 22/ ARB 4x4 Accessories/ -- To meet the demand of off-roaders looking to strengthen their current axles without going to the expense and weight penalties of a larger axle assembly, ARB has just released the latest Nissan ARB Air Locker. Designed for the M226 Nissan axles found in 2005+ Nissan Frontiers, Titans and Xterras; referred to as ARB part number RD149, this locker is sure to get you farther in the U.S. outback than you ever have before.

As with other ARB Air Locker models, the RD149 features ARB's patented "timed" locking mechanism that optimizes the Air Locker's internal gear mesh in the locked configuration and increases the unlocking speed all at the touch of a dash mounted switch. Complete with the proven steel reinforced, elastomer bonded annular seal, this Air Locker is designed to handle the most extreme climatic temperatures on earth.

Using the very latest in parametric solid modeling systems and analysis packages, ARB's engineering team was able to perform comprehensive, live and virtual testing to develop a most impressive final product. ARB is currently taking pre orders for the RD149 Nissan M226 air locker. This locker is expected to be in stock November 2008.
